

Accessibility Statement - Grace Joanna

Last updated: 29 July 2025

Website: www.gracejoanna.org.uk

At Grace Joanna, I'm committed to making this website accessible and inclusive for all visitors, including people with disabilities. My aim is to create a welcoming, easy-to-navigate experience for everyone.

Accessibility adjustments on this site

This website follows the Web Content Accessibility Guidelines (WCAG 2.1, Level AA) and includes features such as:

- Clear heading structure and logical page order
- Alternative text for images
- Keyboard-friendly navigation
- High-contrast colour combinations
- Reduced use of motion/animation
- Forms and content that are screen reader-friendly

Third-party content

Some events and pages link to external platforms (e.g., Eventbrite or venue websites). While I aim to link to accessible platforms, I don't have control over their content. Please let me know if you encounter any issues.

Event venues

As I don't operate from a fixed location, accessibility will vary depending on the venue. I'm always happy to provide venue-specific accessibility information upon request.

Feedback and support

If you experience any issues accessing content on this site or have suggestions to improve accessibility, please get in touch:

 hello@gracejoanna.co.uk